

SUMMER TRAINING & RESEARCH FUNDING
FOR EARLY CAREER INVESTIGATORS

APPLY NOW TO BECOME A FELLOW OF THE NIDA-FUNDED

HIV AND DRUG ABUSE PREVENTION
RESEARCH ETHICS TRAINING INSTITUTE

Deadline to Apply:
March 15, 2024

- Attend two summer training programs with fully funded travel and lodging:
 - July 7-15, 2024: New York City (Manhattan Campus)
 - TBD 2025: New York City (Manhattan Campus)
- Receive a $30,000 grant to conduct a mentored research study that will contribute to evidence-based HIV & drug use research ethics practice
- Join a network of scholars examining current challenges in HIV & drug abuse research ethics nationally and internationally

HOW AND WHEN TO APPLY

• Visit fordham.edu/RETIapply for the application requirements and form, or contact Dr. Celia Fisher at ethicsinst@fordham.edu for more information. Applications are due March 15, 2024. Applicants will be notified of award decisions by April 30, 2024.

Institute Alumni have published findings from their funded research in high impact journals, incorporated findings as pilot data for successful NIH grant applications and have become recognized as experts in the responsible conduct of HIV and drug abuse research. Visit trainees' publications page for more information or visit our online collection at www.researchethics.net.

CELIA FISHER, PH.D.
DIRECTOR & PRINCIPAL INVESTIGATOR
(R25DA031608)